Caleb: "While Mr. Cain sought to project an air of normalcy around his campaign, he appeared far more agitated than earlier in the week. At one point, he screamed, 'Excuse me! Excuse me! Excuse me!' as a scrum of photographers surrounded him. "
Caleb: Jesus.
Caleb: This whole thing has really just surpassed every expectation and precedent of any presidential campaign ever.
Caleb: That includes Palin, two or three Perots, and half a dozen William Jennings Bryants.
